IOWA COMPANY MAKES WESTBY HOME BASE

What better place for two young Iowa farm boys to place their business headquarters than on Main Street, Westby? Farm boys, who not only saw the potential in oil country, but had the drive, work ethic and enough knowledge in the field to build their business; a very successful business in just over two years.

It all started in September of 2010 when Phil Swanson, who worked in the oil industry, called his brother back home and said, "If you can get out here, there is all kinds of work to be had." It didn't take long for brother Jeremy to show up in Lignite, North Dakota, with one truck in tow.

Once there, it was obvious Phil knew what he was talking about, Jeremy saw the needs, the wheels started turning, and "Triple S" was born. Fast forward to February 2012 and the Swanson Brothers (Phil had joined the business venture) had expanded enough they needed a shop and more space for equipment. Westby, Montana, was the closest place they could find that fit the bill and with a price tag they could afford. Triple S set up shop in the Nordhagen building on the east edge of town.

This allowed for truck parking and placement of other equipment on the land south across the road. Triple S had six employees when they first appeared on the scene in Westby. A year later Triple S bought the Main Street building owned by Monson Corporation (former site of Ford Garage and Crystal Bar) and moved to their new location. Triple S is 24/7, 365 day a year, 911 business for the oil industry. In other words, they are ready at the drop of a hat with almost any oil field related need. The nature of the business is everything from trucking to cleaning and construction. They also have a wide variety of rental equipment. Triple S currently employes 26 people including two bookkeepers in Iowa. They have recently added a full time mechanic. The employees, who on average are 800 miles from home, rotate out every 20 days. Generally 14 are on hand on any given day working 20 on and 10 off. Most hail from Iowa and Washington with the closest being from Billings.

In regards to housing, the company was fortunate the Monson building housed 6 apartments and the trailer homes east of the building also came with the sale. This has allowed adequate housing needs for the employees thus far.

Owner Jeremy Swanson speaking for Triple S has expressed their desire as a company to become part of the community. Although they keep crazy and long hours, the brothers would like the public to know they are here to help in any way they can, whenever they can. Right now, this is their community, too. The company hopes to hold an open house sometime this summer. Construction was recently completed on four new offices in the building and Triple S would like to share their efforts with the public and show them just what the business is all about.

One thing the public may not be aware of is the equipment-loaders, skid steers, lights, to name a few- is available for rent to anyone at any time. Also, the company mechanic is available to work on outside vehicles and equipment once their own service work is complete.

To even further establish their presence in Westby, Triple S is looking for 20-40 acres of land in close proximity to Westby to handle the large trucks and equipment the company deals with. Jeremy may be reached at 701-580-9711 or drop in at their Main Street location.

I am inspired!

If you were not one of the 113 lucky ones to have witnessed the inspirational service at Immanuel Lutheran Church on Sunday, I am sorry. The Lutheran Youth Organization, Immanuel Sunday School, and their absolutely terrific leaders inspired us all with word and song as they led worship.

I am grateful!

It was senior recognition Sunday and I am grateful to have been a part of each and every one of their lives, if even in some small way. This group of five seniors has to be one of the most well- rounded, talented, and just plain NICEST bunch of kids to come out of WHS. We could not have predicted nor imagined the achievements on every platform they (along with fellow classmates) would attain.

Many are aware of their success on the football field, volleyball court, basketball courts and are now gaining on the track field. But, if not, all need to be aware they have excelled equally as well in the classroom, in drama, in music, and in leadership.

I am Thankful!

I am thankful to all of our high school students who so selfishly give of their time to often lead worship, to mentor the younger kids by teaching Sunday School and lead their music. They show respect and honor to the elders in our congregation and annually visit those in the nursing home, manor and La-Casa. They have and will continue to enrich each and every one of our lives.

What's more, I am inspired by, grateful to and thankful for Sue (and Kim) who have mentored these children as their own and played a huge role in shaping these young lives to be the best they can be whether of the track field or the church floor. Talk about selfless devotion-they have set the ultimate example and the bar high for our young people.

THANK YOU all for your service and commitment to our church and our community.

Kayla Rust, Makenzie Westgard, Brady Olson, Tess Bjorgen, Makayla Westgard-our five amazing seniors.

The 4th and 5th grade Sunday School students join Shayla Garman and Sabrina Carter in the duet that earned them a superior rating at district music festival.

CUISINE at home has been my favorite cooking magazine for years. Recipes, tips and techniques and no more. It has beautiful pictures with each recipe and arrives with holes in place to store in a 3 ring binder.

This following was an e-recipe from CUISINE at home and I loved it. Came together in half an hour, ingredients are simple and all on hand, and the results-well, you decide for yourself. A loaf of crusty bread is all you need (perhaps a bottle of chardonnay) for a delicious meal to please most any palate.

CHICKEN POMODORO

If you don't like to cook with alcohol or don't have it on hand, you can replace the vodka with an equal amount of chicken broth.

2 boneless, skinless chicken breasts, halved, pounded to 1/4-inch thick (8 oz. each)

Salt and black pepper

2 Tbsp. all-purpose flour

2 Tbsp. olive oil

1/4 cup vodka

1/2 cup low-sodium chicken broth

1/4 cup heavy cream

1 cup halved heirloom cherry tomatoes

2 Tbsp. fresh lemon juice

1/4 cup minced scallions

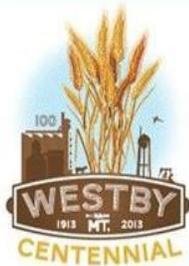

Season cutlets with salt and pepper, then dust with flour. Coat a sauté pan with nonstick spray. Add oil and heat over medium-high. Sauté cutlets in a large sauté pan until brown, 2–3 minutes per side. Transfer cutlets to a plate. Off heat, deglaze pan with vodka and cook until liquid evaporates. Add broth and cream and reduce until thick, 2–3 minutes. Stir in tomatoes and lemon juice and bring to a simmer. Return cutlets to pan and cook to warm through, 1 minute per side. Serve cutlets with sauce and garnish with scallions. Serve with Garlic Spaghetti.

Per serving: 301 cal; 16g total fat (5g sat); 93mg chol;

149mg sodium; 6g carb; 1g fiber; 25g protein

DAVE & HILDUR LEININGER

David John Leininger was born on February 10th, 1905, in Minnesota. He moved to Fortuna as a child where his father, John, homesteaded.

At the age of 13 he began buying and selling cattle, horses, hogs, and turkeys for his Dad.

In 1926 he bought a Canadian farm from Berger Larsen of Westby. Two years later on August 13th, Dave married Swedish native Hildur Nelson.

Hildur arrived in the US in 1910 and grew up and was educated in Coleharbor, ND. She earned a teaching certificate from Minot Normal College and taught at Turtle Lake and near Ambrose, ND, prior to her marriage.

Dave and Hildur lived on their Canadian farm until 1933 where their first two children Robert (1930) and Vonnie (1933) were born. The family then settled in Fortuna where Larry (1937) and Marianne (1938) were born in nearby Ambrose. While in Fortuna, Dave bought and sold cattle and was an insurance salesman.

Dave and Hildur made their home in Williston for three years where Dave managed the Elk's Club returning to Westby in 1945.

Dave partnered with Lloyd Kittelson in the purchase of the Crystal Bar and in 1946 they purchased the Border Ball Room of which Dave took over the operations.

In 1947 the Leininger's bought the Martin Nereson land north of Westby (the farm grandson Keith and his wife, Julie Leininger live on) and in 1948 Dave and son Robert bought the Halbert Nereson farm where Robert and his wife Dorothy have resided for years.

In the late 50's Dave sold out his interest in the Crystal Bar and Border Ball Room to Lloyd Kittelson.
